Illinois Beta Chapter of Tau Beta Pi became the first honorary organization on the Armour campus when it received its charter from the Tau Beta Pi Association in 1906. The chapter established at Armour became the fourteenth chapter of a national organization which now has over sixty-nine active branches located in the important colleges of engineering throughout the country. The first chapter of the organization was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 "to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates of engineering and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering colleges of America". Some thirty thousand student and graduate engineers have been honored with membership in Tau Beta Pi in the years since the fraternity was founded. Illinois Beta, following the policy of its parent organization, has been engaged assiduously since its founding in promoting and in aiding student engineering affairs and activities. In addition to the regular student functions which interest the chapter, it spends considerable time in following the activities and achievements of graduate engineers. Representing as it does a large, national, honorary fraternity embracing all branches of engineering curriculum, Illinois Beta of Tau Beta Pi has come to be considered the leading organization of its nature on the campus of Armour Institute.
