mierowicz took six bouts in a row before he was defeated, ending the season with seven wins and three losses. It was six out of nine for both Till and Wasilenko, while Harrison earned his share of points with six victories.

The wrestlers opened their season against Herzl Junior College on December 5 and won seven of the eight matches for a 29-3 victory. Harrison, Nigrelli, Hurwitz, and Balsewick garnered five points each for pinning their men, while Hanna, Siew, and Kazmierowicz all won on decisions with time advantages of 4:30, 3:20, and 1:30 minutes respectively.

Real competition was afforded when Wheaton came to Armour on December 12. The Ministers, however, went home with a 21-9 victory, winning on three falls and two decisions. The engineers were able to grunt out only three decisions. Wasilenko evened up his season's record with a win, and Harrison and Kazmierowicz continued on their undefeated way.
