

The Techawks avenged their defeat of the previous season as they whipped Illinois Wesleyan 76 to 55. Clark and Fisher were the leaders of the team in points as they each won two events, Clark getting firsts in the broad jump and the javelin throw, and Fisher coming in first in the mile and 880.

Coach Norm Root's trackmen next went down to Peoria to hand Bradley Tech their second defeat in as many years as the A. I. T. men won, 67-59. Rothenberg paced the team to victory as he took four places, while the Techawks swept the broad jump with Clark, Miller, and Rothenberg. Armour's supremacy in the pole vault was shown when Dixon tied for first, and Elwood and Heidenreich tied for third. After the string of victories, Armour met its first defeat when Loyola nosed out the Techawks, 67½ to 58½. Vandekieft was high point man again as he won the discus and shot put, and took third in the high jump. Clark won the javelin throw and broad jump, while Rothenberg took three places in the track events.
