

In Sonny Weissman's emporium on the 5th floor some fifty brawny Tec-hawks matched fists and arm locks in a series of bouts. From this melee of fighters five boxers and five wrestlers punched and grunted their way to intramural championships in weight classes.

"Strike!" That was the cry on the bowling alleys as fifty-five men rolled ball after ball at the winsome ten-pins. The team of Hauswald, Lake, Olsen, and Blevins, however, were the bowlers who often had this shout ring in their ears as they won the intramural bowling championship. High pin man of the tourney was Pollak. The Phi Kaps continued their sweep of interfraternity athletics by also taking the bowling trophy.

INTERCLASS

THE INTRAMU