IIT's lack of a foreign language department and other language-learning resources leaves students in need, especially given our diverse population and study-abroad program. Furthermore, cultural socialization and interactions are at a minimum.

IPRO 363 sets out to create Language Link, a networking site that:

- connects students according to language learning specifications using a matching algorithm
- encourages students to meet with each other to learn languages, based on the immersion theory
- integrates cultures and builds friendships on campus
