

I PRO 330

Dynamic and Contemporary
Science Fair Projects

Josh Tate, Andrew Mehr, Kyle Gay

The Problem

“International and domestic comparison show that American students have not been succeeding in the mathematical part of their education at anything like a level expected of an international leader.”

The Final Report of the National Mathematics Advisory Panel, U.S. Department of Education, Washington D.C., 2008

Previous Accomplishments

- Established contacts with CPS personnel who gave feedback about the IPRO 330 project
- Visited Chicago Public Schools to promote the website
- Judged CPS science fairs to understand better the needs of the science fair program
- Developed more contemporary and dynamic science fair projects
- Created high-quality data analysis and presentation skills guides
- Site has been updated and upgraded

The Plan

- Publicize the website
- Update current science fair website by adding more project ideas and needed guides
- Establish more contacts with CPS personnel who can give feedback to improve IPRO 330
- Establish links to the CPS website, ISTA website, and with the University of Chicago's Digital Library's science fair program

The Sub-team Plans

Communications Team

- Continue communication with current contacts
- Establish more contacts with CPS personnel
- Create promotional items for IPRO 330

Technical Team

- Learn more about website design
- Upload new project and guides
- Linking to more external sites

Content Team

- Create more science fair projects
- Create more project and lab note taking guides
- Investigate content requirements of an idea generator

Current Accomplishments

- Attended Science Chicago's Lab Fest at the Museum of Science and Industry
- Created lab note taking guides and project guides
- Requested permission to use others' project ideas
- Created a 9-page flier to be sent to CPS teachers

Increased Hits From Last Semester

Site Usage

 3,365 Visits

 12,333 Pageviews

 3.67 Pages/Visit

Expected Difficulties

Content Team

- Learning enough about subjects to create guides
- Getting approval for project ideas from other websites
- Making note taking guides general enough

Technical Team

- Loss of technical expertise
- Lack of tutorials for back-end management

Communications Team

- Establishing contact with more CPS teachers
- Maintaining contact with CPS positions
- Establishing channels of direct communication with CPS teachers and students
