TWEEN Girls BUZZ Marketing

Do tween girls spread the word about their fave products? You can bet the mortgage on it... and when they find something they love or NOT, they want to tell the world ALL about it. These girls are alpha girls... they are peer influencers and other girls are listening to them.

Market Size

- Market size: 8,000,000 tween girls nationwide
 - Household income over $50,000
 - 55% use Internet to communicate
 - 40% have cell phones
- Our market's buying power = $30.8 billion
 - Spends $110 per month on average

MarketResearch.com, Inc., The U.S. Tweens and Young Teens Market, 3rd ed. 2005. Simmons Market Research Bureau, Kids and Teens National Consumer Survey, Fall 2004.

Tween Survey Says...

- Tween girls enjoy customizing devices
- 68% stated they like keeping up with the latest fashions
- Parents prefer monitoring their child's internet activity

Tween Girls Clique?

Are Cliques in school really important to girls? Or do they seem more important than they really are? The AllyKatzz Tween girls tell us what goes on in THEIR schools.

First, we asked the girls, Are

Cliques Important In YOUR school?

60% said yes and 40% said no. Then also told us that cliques aren't a boy thing. And then they said...

Sales Projection

eMotion™ presents BFF<3™ Necklace

Problem

- Current web communities are inappropriate for tweens
- Absence of physical closeness in online social networking

Team

What do we provide?

The 'What do we provide?' section features several elements: three heart-shaped necklaces in green, red, and blue; a map of the Stuart Building and Crown Hall; a penguin icon; a polar bear icon; and a balance scale with 'Security' and 'Privacy' on the pans. The BFF<3 logo is also present.
