A photograph of a man in a blue and white striped shirt working on a mechanical model inside a glass display case. The model is a complex structure of white beams and joints, illuminated by three bright lights. The man is looking intently at his work. The display case is mounted on a stand with two thick, light-colored cylindrical legs. A white sign with the number 49 is attached to the front of the stand. In the foreground, the back of a person's head with dark, curly hair is visible, looking towards the display case. The background is a dark red curtain.

A woman with dark hair, wearing a blue shirt and a denim vest, is working on a science project. She is standing behind a table that has a sign with the number 268 on it. The table is supported by two yellow poles. On the table, there is a wooden frame structure with a horizontal beam and two vertical supports. The woman is using a pair of pliers to work on the structure. To the left of the woman, there is a person wearing a white shirt and blue pants, who is holding a piece of paper. The background is dark with a red curtain. A small light is visible in the upper left corner.
